Patriotic Group Plan Defense Work

A Study Of The United States Will Feature D. A. R. Program For This Year

A salute to the flag by members of Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution when they met for the first time this season at their chapter house, inaugurated the year's program featuring a study of the United States. They are reminded at this time when patriotic women are making valuable contributions to the defense program that it was just 154 years ago this month that 39 Americans after tolling and debating for three months in Independence hall at Philadelphia, heeded a humorous appeal from Benjamin Franklin, put aside differences of opinion, and signed the constitution of the United States.

This seems a most opportune time to memorize (if you haven't already done so) the preamble to the Constitution—"We, the people of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America."

Mrs. W. H. McGee, chairman, led the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison by those present.

Mrs. Clarence E. Faulk, speaker of the afternoon, gave an interesting review of her travels through the New England states this past summer. She also talked on things of historic nature of special interest to this group of women.

Mrs. Elmer Slagle, Red Cross chairman, outlined a course of work mapped out by national Red Cross. During the social hour the hostesses, Mrs. W. E. Leigh, Mrs. J. C. Limer, Mrs. Joseph Benwick, Mrs.

Minnie Ruffin and Mrs. George Lester, served a variety of confections. Members present, in addition to the hostesses, were: Mrs. S. L. Allen, Mrs. Stanley Blower, Mrs. Duncan Cook, Mrs. Mary Clay, Mrs. John Coon, Mrs. J. A. Coon, Mrs. O. M. Grisham, Mrs. W. H. McGee, Mrs. R. A. Payne, Mrs. E. C. Slagle, Mrs. Herbert Steed, Mrs. Melville Vaughan, Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mrs. F. A. Jones, Mrs. O. R. Lewis, Mrs. J. S. Drew, Mrs. Gordon Cummings, Miss Eleanor Faulk, Mrs. C. E. Faulk, Mrs. David Garrett, Mrs. R. L. Kellogg.

Mrs. Ben Coulter entertained with an informal morning coffee complimentary to Mrs. Quinten McLemore, a bride of recent date.

Mrs. Coulter presented her honor guest with a handsome piece of glazed pottery.

Enjoying the courtesies extended, in addition to Mrs. McLemore, were: Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mrs. Addie Butler, Miss Dot Landis, Miss Miriam Robinson, Miss Georgia Cordill, Miss Beth Ellen Funderburk, Miss Joy Langford, Miss Katherine Scott, Miss Kathleen Scott.

Another courtesy extended Mrs. McLemore was the three-table room party planned by Miss Mary Minta Moore, assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. B. Moore.

Frosted drinks and canapés were served the guests upon arrival. At the conclusion of the games and a variety of cakes were served.

The hostess presented Mrs. McLemore with six beautiful dinner plates in her chosen pattern.

The guests, including Mrs. McLemore, were:

Mrs. J. W. McLemore, Jr., Mrs. James Kiper, Mrs. L. R. Nelson, Jr., Mrs. T. B. McDuff, Mrs. Jake Bryant and Misses Barbara and Addie Butler, Beth Ellen Funderburk, Joy Langford, Marjorie Scott, Mary Minta Moore, and the honoree, Mrs. Quinten McLemore. First prize, consisting of twin vases, was won by Miss Marjorie Scott while the second prize, a hat brush, went to Miss Barbara Butler.

Mrs. J. C. Anders is enjoying a week's visit with friends in New Orleans.

Pattern

This is the waistcoat outfit, defined for a long and happy career among teen-agers. Daughters love the breezy, casual mannish style and mothers appreciate the long-wearing qualities of this winning costume. The streamline waistcoat and the pleated front skirt may be made in plaids, gabardine, tweeds, corduroy—and will stand up smartly through an entire school year. You can constantly add fresh new blouses in washable cottons, jersey or rayon crepes.

Pattern No. 8029 is in sizes 8 to 16 years. Size 10 waistcoat and skirt take 2 yards 54-inch fabric, 3 yards 35-inch blouse takes 1 1/2 yards 35-inch fabric. For this attractive pattern, send 15c in coin, your name, address, pattern number and size to the News-Star-World, Today's Pattern Service 108 7th Avenue, New York, N. Y.

A capacity enrollment of cadets reported for instruction when Jefferson Military College, Washington, Miss., entered upon its one hundred and thirty-ninth year of successful operation. Cadets reported from eight states: Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arizona, Missouri and Texas, and also three foreign countries: Cuba, British Honduras and Venezuela. Those reporting from Monroe are:

Junior Corporal George A. Hollingsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hollingsworth; First Lieutenant Hunter Deane Mullis, son of Mrs. Mary Mullis; William B. Jackson, son of Mr. "Bill" Jackson; Hubert Clark Weatherly, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Weatherly; West Monroe; James Edward McElvaine, brother of Mrs. W. E. LaBorde; and Joseph Richard Smith, son of Mrs. Genevieve Smith.

All day Tuesday and Wednesday cadets were busy securing their service uniforms, arranging their classroom work and learning something of the military routine and discipline that is a major part of the school's instruction. The hardest job for the new cadets is learning how to make his bed according to regulation.

The first call for football practice was held with thirty-five candidates reporting.

Kent Steele Hamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Hamm, is convalescing from a recent tonsillectomy at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendall clinic.

FOR THE LOVE OF PAM

By VIVIAN GREY

YESTERDAY: In spite of her prejudice against the rich and the poor, Pam Quelleron has accepted Jerry Winthrop's invitation for a tea dance. And although Jerry might not have had the nerve to ask Pam for the date if he had not made a bet with Antoine, the orchestra leader, there is no doubt but that the invitation is sincere.

Chapter Three Snubbed

SUNSET was spun like a delicate iridescent cobweb against a pink sky when Jerry's car pulled up at the Quelleron door that afternoon. Jerry had purposely arrived a little late. He wanted to make a grand entrance with Pam at the tea dance, "knock 'em off their pins," he thought to himself.

Juan opened the door to admit him. There was a dignity about the old man that gave anything he did something of an air. Pam seemed to materialize out of the shadows of the wide stair, her brown eyes soft and lovely, gentle laughter on her lips.

Jerry stood for a startled moment and stared. He'd been right—knock 'em off their pins was it. It had never occurred to him to wonder about Pam's clothes, what sort of a home she came from and music was played especially for them. She was aware of little besides Jerry and the rhythm to which they moved. Jerry, looking over her head, saw his mother's face following them. He could all but feel his mother asking, "What pretty child was that? But Adele was all right. She'd never been a snob."

"Hello, Jerry!" The words dropped coolly into a moment of their dance.

"Hello, Lenore," Jerry didn't even look toward the speaker. He knew too well what he would see in his sister's face. She rarely bothered to speak to him unless she had some scheme up her sleeve. Lenore was like that—cool and casual and almost cruel.

When the dance ended Jerry saw Lenore bearing down on them with several girls and a young man or two in her wake. It was too late to whisk Pam away. Lenore was within hailing distance. Her voice was smooth and sultry, like her appearance.

"Hello, Jerry!" And then appearing to have seen Pam for the first time, she exclaimed: "Oh, the coconut girl! The Palmetto hat girl. Have you any fish flowers for sale today?"

"I've just finished some lovely violets. If you like—" Pam started in all sincerity and a little touch of pride, for she was justly proud of her work. Then she stopped suddenly. Something about the faces of the girls silenced her and brought a swift such to her face. A girl tittered audibly. Some of the young men with Lenore moved away from her group, their faces uncomfortably flushed as if ashamed of the rudeness they had been trapped into.

"Next dance, Miss Quelleron?" one of them asked pleasantly.

"Freda, as if with some seventh sense, Antoine started playing after an incredibly short intermission. Jerry, his arm around Pam, swung her into the dance. Pam could feel a sort of tenseness about him as they moved over the floor.

They danced for a wordless space. Then Pam, who had been stung to silence, found her voice. "Perhaps you had better take me home," she whispered.

He looked down at her, his gray eyes tender. "No, Pam, I can't. Perhaps if I didn't feel about you as I do, I might. But I'll be bringing you here again and again, so Lenore's got to be taught a lesson. She's my sister, you know, and she likes being decent just about as much as a cat likes water. I'm just telling you so you won't mind her in the future. Next time give her as good as she sends."

"But I'd rather not stay," Pam said, still trying to stifle the hurt. "For me, please," Jerry said quickly, and then let a cut-in take her. That was the only thing to do, he thought. Let Lenore and her little band of cats see that Pam could take their men away from them. That would bring them to their knees quicker than anything else. Men to beau them around were a necessity to the winter girl.

Jerry stood at the edge of the floor and watched Pam go from one cut-in to another. "She's certainly a success," said a smooth feminine voice. "No drafted men there. All eager volunteers."

Jerry turned quickly to the girl who had been looking at Pam. Their eyes met. "Not you too, I hope?"

"Oh, you mean Lenore? I saw that little act and supposed she was pulling a fast one—knowing Lenore."

"Yes, knowing Lenore. Someone ought to feed her poison ivy," Jerry's eyes were on Pam again. She was doing a foolish, gay step with one of his friends. He was proud of her smooth expertness and grace.

DEFENSE GARB

With more and more women called into defense industries, the United States bureau of home economics has designed a group of work garments allowing maximum comfort and freedom of action. The legs of the cotton denim slacks above are shaped in and closed with slide fasteners. The shirt is worn outside for coolness. When not needed for protection, the lower part of the sleeves may be taken off instead of rolled up.

McKnight; serving, Mrs. Harry Hayes and Mrs. Conrad Cagle, Sr.

The quilt donated to the society by Father Henry was won by Mrs. R. C. Jolliffe.

Dr. Fred Marx who is serving his internship in the Charity hospital, New Orleans, will arrive later in the week for a week's vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marx.

Friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. James Griffin is now convalescing nicely at her home on Dick Taylor street, from a recent illness.

SUB-STATIONS OF AREA CLOSE

Postoffice Branches No Longer Needed For Army Here

The nine sub-stations for the Second army on maneuvers here, which have been in operation for the past several weeks, using the Monroe postoffice as base, were all closed Wednesday. At that time the Twin Cities were evacuated by the Red army under threat of occupation by units of the Blue army striking north toward the rich oil and gas fields of northeast Louisiana. The units are understood to be removed to a new base at Bossier City.

Postmaster J. R. Wooten stated that with the closing of sub-postoffice stations that normal conditions are being resumed. Extra help had been employed and all of the nine sub-stations were in active operation as completely equipped postoffices.

While official figures are not yet available, it is believed that 100,000 pieces of mail were handled daily for the army during the past several weeks.

Incoming army mail for the 200,000 men who were stationed in the Monroe area was all sorted at Little Rock, Ark., and conveyed to Monroe, being taken direct to the nine sub-stations. Outgoing mail was dispatched direct from the Monroe postoffice.

TIN CANS, BATTERY, PAPER CAUSE BLAZE

A combination of tin cans, an automobile battery, and paper caused a blaze at the Monroe Wholesale Drug company, 121-52 North Second street, about 10 o'clock Thursday morning, report of which sent three trucks from Central fire station to the scene. Firemen who extinguished the blaze said the cans, the battery and the paper had been piled on a conveyor at the company and the contact of the cans with the battery caused a short circuit which ignited the paper. The conveyor was removed from the building and the blaze extinguished. Little damage was done by the blaze, firemen said.

Trucks Nos. 1, 2 and 6 answered the call to the wholesale drug company. Truck No. 6 later made a call to McCain-Richards, auto dealers on South Grand street, where smoke caused by the passage of a motor tuning liquid through an automobile motor had been reported as a fire.

Social Agencies COUNCIL TO MEET

The Council of Social Agencies will meet in the First Methodist church annex Friday noon.

This will be the first meeting of the fall and all members are expected to attend.

This group meets the third Friday of each month but does not meet during the summer months.

M. S. Biederman will be the speaker Friday, and his theme will be the Twin City Community Chest, explaining its workings and importance as a civic project.

BROTHERS ARE IN ARMY RANKS

Sons Of Ouachita Parish Couple All Now In U. S. Service

Mr. and Mrs. Wade H. Futch, of Luna star route, West Monroe, have three sons who are representing Uncle Sam's national defense forces in the United States army. Staff Sergeant Richard G. Futch, 23, was born in West Monroe and first entered the service in December, 1936, at Fort Benning, Ga. While there he was an instructor in small arms for the Reserve Officers Training corps, and gained recognition for his company through his boxing matches at Fort Benning. Upon his discharge in December, 1939, he was reenlisted for G. H. Q. air force at Barksdale, and while at that station he attended the ordnance school of explosives and ammunition. In July of 1940 he married Miss Gardie Haney of Sioux Falls, S. D., and in October of that year they were transferred to the air base at Savannah, Ga., and a short time later he was promoted to the grade of corporal, air corps. In December of that year, he passed the examination for first mechanics with high honors and was then promoted to the grade of staff sergeant and has now been transferred to Charlotte, N. C.

Jack P. Futch, 18, enlisted with the 204th Coast Artillery (anti-aircraft), Louisiana national guard in Monroe of this year, and was sent to Camp Hulen, Tex., shortly afterwards with his regiment. He is now on maneuvers with his regiment near Lake Charles.

Edward J. Futch, 25, was accepted for enlistment for Fort Benning, July 24, 1940, in Monroe, by Sergeant H. B. McNemar and after a few months at that post he was transferred to Fort Knox, Ky., where he is now a member of the First Armored corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Futch are proud of their three fine sons and stated at the local recruiting office that they wished they had more sons who could enter the regular army. All three of the boys speak highly of the service, and all are making excellent progress and intend to remain in the army for a good many years to come.

MOST OF SECOND ARMY STAFF 'DEAD'

LAKE CHARLES, La., Sept. 18.—(P)—If the Louisiana war games were actual combat almost all the Second Army staff would be dead today, the Third Army contended, because of the surprising success of the initial paratroop attack.

Third army headquarters reported the officer and several enlisted men of the 121 who dropped out of planes yesterday, blew a pontoon bridge and disorganized communications of the Second army, commandeered a car and reached enemy headquarters, 27 miles from their landing place.

By scaling the headquarters building, the official Third Army version said, paratroopers caught Brigadier General Donald A. Robinson, chief of staff and most of his associates defenseless.

The paratroopers were sent on a "sacrifice mission," so-called because in actual combat none would have been expected to return.

ELMER SLAGLE IS HOSPITAL PATIENT

Elmer Slagle, superintendent of the Louisiana Training institute, is a patient in St. Francis sanitarium where he was operated on for appendicitis Wednesday.

His condition Thursday was said to be satisfactory.

TWO PERMITS ISSUED

Sam H. Awt, city building inspector Thursday announced issuance of two building permits. A permit was given H. A. and E. A. Gentry for construction of a one-story frame dwelling in the 1100 block of Texas avenue. The construction will cost $200, with day labor being used. Another permit was given Leo Williams to build a frame garage at 111 Mouton street. Old materials will be used in the construction, which will cost $25.

TWO FIRES DAMAGE CAFE, GARAGE HERE

A fire reportedly caused by children playing with matches damaged the garage of Leon Marx, at 403 Alexander avenue, late yesterday afternoon, Fire Chief Frank Roddy reported.

Trucks No. 1, 3, and 6 answered the alarm at 4:35 p. m. and with the booster and hose lines extinguished the blaze which broke out in a closet in a storeroom over the garage, the fire chief said. The miscellaneous outdoor equipment in the storeroom was slightly damaged, Chief Roddy said.

The Liberty cafe at 405 Walnut street was also considerably damaged yesterday morning when hot grease on the kitchen stove caught fire, Chief Roddy said. Before firemen arrived the blaze was brought under control by soldiers from the Second army depot across the street who sprayed the flames with foamite from portable guns. The cafe is operated by Tom Leos. Attendants estimated damage at approximately $500.

Firemen reported grass fires extinguished in the 12th block, Filhiol street, at the intersection of Orange and South Fourth streets, and two miles south of Monroe on the Winnaboo road. The latter fire, firemen said, was reported a house fire.

DENVER DWELLINGS TO HAVE CHIMNEYS

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 18.—(P)—For the benefit of Santa Claus—and to be prepared for any fuel emergency—all future dwellings built in Denver must have chimneys.

In recent years many gas-heated homes have been constructed without them.

Mayor Benjamin F. Stapleton pointed out that saboteurs might cut gas lines or some other emergency could develop to make chimneys houses unsatisfactory.

The council agreed.

AWARDS TROPHY TO UNITED GAS

Y's Men's Club Presents Emblem In Softball Contest

Awarding of the handsome softball trophy to the members of the United Gas company's team was made at the regular meeting of the Y's Men's club at Hotel Frances Wednesday night. The United Gas company was represented by J. G. Hicks and "Speedy" Lawrence. The Hunt and Whiteker team was represented by Marcus Cahn, manager, and by Paul Cook and Umpire Leo Miller.

Y's Men's club member, R. G. Hart, presented each of the members present as guests and each gave a short talk.

It was decided to endeavor to have two leagues next year, one to represent business firms here and the other composed of service club members. Mr. Hicks and Mr. Cook were named as a special committee to make the necessary preliminary arrangements for an early start of the program.

Walter Savage, Jr., former club member, who is now in the United States navy and who will soon leave for Honolulu, and Lieutenant Howell Heard, from Camp Buie, Tex., were guests and responded with short talks.

Regional Director Jaulney of Little Rock, Ark., was a guest. He assumed his duties after the national convention of Y's Men's clubs held recently at Memphis, Tenn. He outlined some of the plans for his work the coming year.

Billy Haynes, a former member, was present as a guest, and the club, desirous of getting all former members to return, the club, named Mike John, Jr., as chairman of a week committee to contact all former members with an effort to secure their return to the club.

OFFICIALS TO SEEK PROJECTS FOR AREA

Mayor Harvey H. Benoit and Chamber of Commerce Secretary George D. Holland will leave for Washington, D. C. Saturday night to confer with officials of the war department and the office of production management on the prospect of obtaining defense projects for the Monroe and West Monroe area.

Seeking "three types of plants" for this area, the officials expect to remain in Washington a week. The types of plants sought were not disclosed.

In an effort to bring defense projects to this community, various contacts have been made by the Chamber of Commerce and Mayor Benoit, J. W. Warren, chamber president, said yesterday. He expressed hope that efforts to obtain added benefits of national defense production for the community would materialize at Washington, although "progress at the present is slow."

The mayor and chamber secretary will take to the capital a special study prepared by the chamber staff to show advantages of this section for different types of defense plants.

Defense Schooling

Anticipating difficulties in providing educational facilities for children of defense workers and of members of the armed forces in various areas, congress last year requested the army and navy to get all available data on the subject. They were determining whether the communities at or near army and navy bases were financially able to provide additional schools if needed and whether the federal government ought, as a matter of right, to provide them regardless of the financial ability of the communities involved.

Apparently the good intention has bogged down. Groton, Conn., has given notice that 75 children from a housing development, established for men stationed at the submarine base there, will not be admitted to local public schools until the community gets action on a request for a WPA grant of $582,000. The money is wanted for a new building. While the state commissioner of education maintains Groton has no legal right to bar children from classes, the board of education makes the point that the housing project is tax free and that the local taxpayers should not be forced to bear the additional burden.

Under the emergency act passed last October, federal contributions of annual sums may be made in lieu of taxes where construction of housing projects for defense workers is actually undertaken. This would cover the Groton case, and either by that means or some other the controversy doubtless will be composed. But that it arose at all indicates the need of clarification of government policy since Groton is now alone in facing the problem.

Oil And War

The world-wide oil situation can be summarized about as follows: Japan appears to have very considerable reserves garnered diligently from the United States and the East Indies. Russia obtains oil from her own Caspian and Black sea sources.

Hitler is getting his oil requirements from Rumania and from synthetic operations within Germany. Italy is dependent on Rumania and on the scant Albanian field. Britain is calling on America chiefly for its needs, particularly Venezuela and the United States, although most of its airplane fuel comes from the East Netherlands. The supply out of Iraq is consumed mainly in Mediterranean operations.

Mexico, which has much oil, is not contributing to Britain's needs. In March, 1938, Mexico expropriated the properties of several large American and British oil companies. Britain terminated diplomatic relations with Mexico and that situation has continued until the present time.

MIAMI—Dave Fleischer hopes to go to town in a big way just as soon as "Mr. Bug Goes to Town." Mr. Bug will have about seven tons of assorted water colors on his neck as soon as they get through with him here in Miami at the Fleischer studios. Mr. Bug is a feature length animated cartoon motion picture, and as Fleischer and his associates crowd into September's dying days they see the end in sight. This means 18 months of continuous effort, of consultation, of pencil sketches, of paint mixing, of photography, of hustle and bustle and—above all—a study of bugs.

I think they have a unique idea behind this picture. . . . The characters all are insects. . . . They sit around and mourn over what a menace "the human ones" are. . . . Well, why not? . . . A man throws away a lighted cigar stub and cremates a whole colony of beetles. . . . A little bug kicks a tin can and brings disaster to a whole family of crickets. . . . It goes like that. . . . It has real pathos, and it is a study in life that will intrigue adults as well as children.

We spent most of a day just ambling about the studios. . . . Some of it was in the paint shop, where James Lummion, who used to be a color expert for Rolla Royce in New York, has sole charge of the tremendous task of creating just the right tints and shadings of the colors to be used. He has more than 4,500 different colors and tones.

Then we went to the screening room and saw a motion picture composed only of vague pencil outline drawings. . . . In this business you don't wait until the product is finished to look at it. . . . You sketch out the action and throw it onto the screen and study it in embryo. . . . Editing is done then and there. . . . Then black and white is added, and rescreened. . . . If it looks good then, background and color are added. . . . It was fascinating to see this film in pencil sketch, followed immediately by several reels of the finished color product.

Fleischer works hard and he fishes hard. . . . On the walls of the Museum of National History in New York is a rare bound fish, caught by him. . . . On his office wall is a beautiful sailfish, the only one he has ever caught. . . . The other morning he had a monster on his hook for more than two hours. . . . It got away and he hasn't the slightest idea what it was.

But for the moment, fish take second place in his affections. He's thinking of Hoppy, who is Mr. Bug in this animated venture that costs so many hundreds of thousands of dollars to produce. . . . Mr. Bug in Dave's life becomes Mr. Big. . . . If the picture wins, Dave wins and all his associates win. . . . If it doesn't, well, there's always the Atlantic ocean. I am not a confirmed fan of animated cartoon movies. . . . I never have recommended one before. . . . I didn't even go for "Snow White." . . . Somehow, I feel that this has an inner pathos that is very human, and therefore worthwhile, and if I didn't think so I wouldn't say it.

HOLLYWOOD, September 18.—During the past week while newspapers have headlined a senate committee's "investigation" of the motion picture industry, I've been heavily impressed by one paramount fact, and one inevitable conclusion.

The fact is this: Motion pictures exert tremendous influence on American thought. They formulate opinions, sway emotions and disseminate information. They play a major role in shaping the mentality of America.

The conclusion, following in course, should be obvious: The men who operate so powerful a medium should be exceedingly careful to use it well. American democracy allows them to manage their business with a minimum of control. In return, they should be willing to exercise maximum effort to prevent the wrong kind of material from reaching the screen.

The motion picture industry is still young, and, like most youngsters, at times irresponsible. Often, money-grabbing producers have tried to cash in on sensation—on amur, sexy thrills and blood-and-thunder melodrama that glamorizes crime. In so-called historical films, facts have been ludicrously distorted; screen biographies have made heroes of some of the most despicable wretches that ever disgraced the earth.

I don't believe our production heads fully realize their responsibility, even while boasting about the power of the medium they control. It's time now to wake up and consider something beside profit in plotting a picture.

Cold Fact: Florence Rice, elsewhere reported at death's door, is in perfect health except for a cold. . . . Ruffed: Burgess Meredith and Evelyn (showgirl) Moriarty, supposedly near marriage. . . . Newsy Muse: Wonder why Franchot Tone has so many portraits of ex-wife Joan Crawford in his home—at least one in every room? . . . Short Cut: Barbers nation-wide are ready for a femme rush to have their locks shorn, after Garbo's new picture reveals her boyish bob. . . . Extra Duty: RKO wants Writer Charles Belden to bomber-jant to England, questing first-hand material for a story about ferry pilots. . . . Honored: Lou Costello, for whom home-town folks (Paterson, N. J.) have named a public square. . . . Attention Fortune Hunters: Oklahoma farm land willed Martha O'Driscoll by her grandpa has sprouted an oil well. . . . Investment: Did Rex (money bags) St. Cyr post $15,000 to back Cobina Wright, Jr.'s, bid for screen success? . . . Up in the World: Carol Bruce will pose for defense stamp posters on request of Major Benjamin H. Namm for whose store she once hosiery-clerked.

The Hollywood Parade: John Howard, philosopher. Mr. Howard, after carefully pondering the local scene, advances the theory that most movie star marriages are broken up by the actress-wife's secret yen for a guy named Oscar. . . . Moxie Rosenberg, logician: Mr. Rosenberg, who likes nothing better than brain-teasers, is currently trying to puzzle out a most perplexing conundrum: Why, when it was announced he would play a Harvard alumnus, did he get a letter of thanks—not from Harvard, but from Yale? . . . Gracie Allen, pioneer. Typical of Miss Allen's resolute spirit is the campaign which she launched, following curtailment of Japanese silk imports, to persuade every Hollywood woman to buy a mulberry tree and a silk worm.

Yesterday's Stars Today. Viola Dana and Shirley Mason. Both top-flight stars in the early twenties, the Flugarth (real name) sisters gave up fame to devote full attention to marriage. Viola Dana today is the wife of Jimmy Thompson, famous golf professional, and a hobbyist at magazine writing. Shirley Mason, married for many years to Director Sidney Lanfield, is a popular figure in Hollywood society. Few stars had larger fan followings in their hey-day; few have shown less regret for relinquished fame.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

QUEER EATING HABITS OF BABIES
The baby chewed the sides of her crib. Mother padded them so she could not get at the wood, but she continued to try. She took off her shoe and chewed that. The dolls were chewed to bits; so was anything else that was chewable.

"She is teething," said the doctor. "Give her a teething ring and maybe that will stop the habit." It didn't stop it. The ring was one thing more to chew. It had no other effect, and when Baby, aged 2 years now, chewed the back off a book and swallowed most of it mother was sure something was radically wrong and took her to the baby specialist.

"There is something lacking in her diet that makes her search for food. We will have to give her a diet that supplies all the elements she needs for nourishment. We will have to explore a little, and experiment, until we find what it is she is looking for."

In a short time it was found that this baby, wanted salt, and a little more protein than she was getting. When these lacks were supplied she stopped the queer eating habits.

Children differ from one another in their requirements of diet. If a child, who is getting a basic diet, begins one of these queer eating habits, don't delay. Go to the nearest children's specialist and get help. Eating earth, paper, chewing wood, chalk, any foreign substance, means a change in diet is needed.

Teething children do chew hard substances. They need a teething ring. This is easily noticed and adjusted. It is the queer eaters that bother mothers. Sometimes a child refuses milk, or eggs, or cereal, one of the accepted items of children's diet. When this is persistent, see the child specialist.

There are some children who cannot take milk, or eggs, or cereal with good results. It is unwise to insist unless one is sure that there is no physical cause for the refusal. Only the skilled specialist knows about this and, as it is highly important to the health of the child, he should be consulted early.

Children imitate the eating habits of those about them. "He is a regular Greenaway; loves his cabbage," does not so much imply hereditary taste as imitation. The Greenaways eat cabbage and speak with gusto what it appears on the table. The young Greenaways will do the same.

It is then, the duty of the grown up people to be careful about what they say when food is offered them. If they eat it with apparent enjoyment the children will do the same very soon. If they make faces, sniff, push the dish away and say, "I never could eat that stuff," I can't see how you can even taste it; it makes me sick just to see it," you can be sure the listening children will note those words and act upon them.

A good way to introduce a new dish to children is to serve it to the grown-ups; who eat it with evident enjoyment. Serve none of it to the children unless they ask for it, and then be stingy with it. "Just a little; I really cooked this for father," will whet the appetite for it. Never serve enough of a new dish. Leave something of hunger for it so that the next service will be welcomed.

'HELP'

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—Tucked away in the $3,500,000 federal tax bill is a little-discussed tax which some pretty shrewd observers of John Q. Taxpayer's reactions say is going to cause more squawks than anything else in the whole measure.

It's the $5 "use tax" on motor vehicles. It means very plainly that every one of the 32,000,000 owners of trucks, buses and private automobiles in the land will have to fork over $5 a year, beginning February 1, 1942, for the privilege of using their vehicles.

The auto people and the American Automobile Association (which has withdrawn its traditional opposition to any tax on auto transportation for the duration of national defense) gave me this analysis of the new tax.

First, it should be pointed out that the fewer cars the next year or so, the better for national defense because of needed materials and anything that taxation does to reduce the number will have the double-barreled benefit of bringing in revenue and saving those materials. Then, too, when there is anything on which you can slap a little $5 tax and add $100,000 to the treasury's income it's not to be tossed off because of a few squawks. At least, that's the way the tax framers must have reasoned. To go back to the other side of the picture, the $5 "use tax" is in addition to a doubling of existing rates on cars, parts, accessories, tires and tubes and a continuation of the tax on gasoline and lubricating oils. This, according to the AAA, means that motorists will pay $300,000,000 more in federal taxes next year, bringing their total federal tax payment for operating a car to approximately $750,000,000.

These taxes are in addition to all state, county and city taxes (on jalopies and their drivers) of which there are by actual count 14 different varieties. Although not all of these bloom in any section, majority do in many.

The thing about some of them and all of the federal taxes is that, until now, you couldn't see them unless you looked at the bill of sale, or the posted price of gasoline and oil.

With the "use tax" it's going to be different. It will be just $5 across the counter, with maybe a little sticker for the windshield or another little receipt to add to the file of "debts paid." Congress handed the treasury the "use tax" without any instructions.

A number of former professional entertainers were featured in the revue, which ranged from strong-man acts to opera bouffe.

Officers in charge sent erstwhile actors to an armory overnight and expressed doubt the show would be permitted to resume its scheduled tour to Richmond and Washington.

Materials are being assembled for laying the gas line under the Mississippi river for the Interstate Gas company. The project is one of the most outstanding ones of its kind ever attempted. Representatives of motion picture companies are planning to make views of the work on October 4 after it is completed.

Elephants will range themselves alongside a wounded comrade and assist it to a place of safety.

SOLDIER-ACTORS' SHOW RULED OUT

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Two hundred soldier-actors of the 29th division know something today about the headaches of trouping—business was well and their show was a hit, but it folded after five performances.

So, instead of two weeks more behind the footlights, they faced the prospect of a return to field duty, probably at forthcoming maneuvers in Virginia and North Carolina.

Their show, a musical revue, "Snap It Up Again," closed last night, a little more than two hours before curtain time, by order from the war department invoking a section of the national defense act forbidding soldiers to be sent off posts to compete with civilians.

The soldiers were in their dressing rooms when the order came. They eluded back into uniform and mumbled entrances of a downtown theater where the show had been playing since last week. Within the next two hours they turned away close to 1,000 customers and refunded money for tickets sold in advance.

In Washington several hours later, Colonel Eugene R. Houscholder, of the official explanation, and said the regulations had been invoked once before, in California. He said, however, no protests against the show had been received from Baltimore theater owners.

A number of former professional entertainers were featured in the revue, which ranged from strong-man acts to opera bouffe.

Officers in charge sent erstwhile actors to an armory overnight and expressed doubt the show would be permitted to resume its scheduled tour to Richmond and Washington.

15 Years Ago

September 18, 1926

Of considerable magnitude was the transfer yesterday of 20 feet of DeSiard street property with improvements for the sum of $25,600 or $1430 per front foot. The property in question is the two-story brick building at 323 DeSiard street now occupied by the Manning and Crowley Paint company. Mr. Manning and Mr. Crowley sold the property to Louis Krauss of Krauss and Cahn.

L. B. Faulk post No. 13, American Legion, last night voted to donate $40 in funds of the local organization toward the placing of a float in the parade at the National Legion convention in Philadelphia. The float will represent the Louisiana Legionnaires.

The question of widening and straightening Harrison street from Jackson to Hall street, was discussed at the noon luncheon of the Lions club. The general opinion favored such action before the paving is laid.

Materials are being assembled for laying the gas line under the Mississippi river for the Interstate Gas company. The project is one of the most outstanding ones of its kind ever attempted. Representatives of motion picture companies are planning to make views of the work on October 4 after it is completed.

FARM LEADERS ASSEMBLE FROM TWELVE STATES

Will Lend Hand In Campaign For Big Increase In Production

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Agricultural officials from 12 of the most fertile states in the Union assembled today to lend a hand in the government's campaign for huge increases in food production next year.

They came from the corn fields of Illinois, Indiana and Iowa, the wheat fields of Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas, the orchards of Ohio, Missouri and Michigan, and the dairy lands of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Members of the agriculture department anticipated that 400 would be present to hear Secretary Wickard outline how much more meat, vegetables and dairy products must be produced in the new "food for defense program."

Wickard has called it the largest food production campaign in the history of American agriculture.

The purpose of the Chicago meeting, his aides explained, was to mobilize the full resources of the mid-western growing area for the effort. Nationally, it is proposed to push farm production 15 per cent beyond the average for the six years ending in 1929.

It is planned to administer the program under the direction of the newly-established state and county defense boards of the agriculture department.

Members of these boards were invited to today's conference as well as representatives of state agricultural planning committees, state farm organizations and regional farm officials.

Tentative food production goals for the middle western states were announced from Washington last night. Today's meeting was expected to give national directors of the program an idea of how much of the quotas may be met and what measures must be taken to make up the difference.

Department spokesmen said hogs, milk, dry skim milk, cheese and chickens were the commodities which must be produced in greater quantities at once if the United States was to continue its aid to Great Britain and still have enough food for defense at home.

Within a matter of weeks after the Chicago meeting every farmer in the country will have been contacted by local farmer committees to determine what each acre of ground can contribute to the effort.

to tell the membership as to whether a convention should be held and Persson says he has faithfully done this and that each time the vote against a convention has been overwhelming. This may be so, but according to his own figures, less than 10 per cent of the members voted and, moreover, the vote is taken by the bases of the local unions who include some of the most degraded criminals in the United States, and few of whom, criminals or not, would encourage the idea of a convention which might arouse troublesome ideas about democratic procedure and imperil their rule. Then, too, the constitution forbids a convention to be called by less than 25 per cent of those voting to carry the proposition.

Under the constitution the president may depose the officials of a local union in case of a question arises, he may suspend and expel members, and appoint a sub-federer from national headquarters to run the union "until harmony has been restored." This means, and in practice has meant, that if the rank and file demand an accounting of their money, Moerschi may send in his own man or appoint a sub-representative the very local officer that the members are challenging.

Whenever he wants to take over a local all he has to do is imagine that "a question" has arisen. He then has constitutional authority to put in his man who need not call any meeting and he has the right to cash all the books and papers of the local so that the rank and file can't prove anything in court.

Remembering that there has been no convention in 30 years, how do you

MOBILIZATION GOING FORWARD 'IN ALL HASTE'

Nazi siege guns bombarded the heart of the old czarist capital and prepared to shell the great Kronstadt naval base of the Russian Black fleet. Other dark news for the Soviet cause was contained in advices reaching London, which said Adolf Hitler's invasion armies at the extreme southern end of the front had apparently cut off the entire Crimean peninsula. Sebastopol, the big Russian naval base on the Black sea, thus presumably was isolated from the U. S. S. R. mainland.

In the nearby Middle East, a series of developments indicated that Turkey and Bulgaria may soon become involved in the gigantic conflict. The Vichy (French) radio reported that because of mounting tension between Bulgaria and Russia, Bulgarian mobilization was going on "in all haste."

Simultaneously, advices reaching Ankara said the British were moving artillery and other military units northward through Syria toward the Turkish border in a constant stream. Russia has sternly warned Bulgaria against service as the base for new German military exploits.

London quarters also reported an Italian attempt to send warships flying the Bulgarian flag through the Turkish-controlled Dardanelles. The British ambassador at Ankara, it was

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN OF Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature is warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are nature's chief waste filters. They filter out of the blood all the waste products of the body. If they fail, the waste products build up in the blood and cause backache, leg pains, loss of energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

U. S. THREATENS TO SEIZE SHIPS TIED BY STRIKE

South metropolis enjoyed regular light and power service nevertheless. After a four-hour blackout early yesterday, skeleton crews of non-striking employees were operating the powerhouses of the Kansas City Light and Power Company. The strikers, however, voted last night to continue their walkout.

The strike stemmed from a jurisdictional dispute. The A. F. of L. union, which represents 350 of the power company's employees, has demanded that it also be allowed to represent 200 other workers, members of the Independent Union of Utility Employees.

Because of the uncertainty of the future supply of power, Sheffield Steel Corporation officials said, their Kansas City plant was shut down last night and will remain closed until a continuous supply of power is assured. The plant employs 2,800.

A second conference was called by the mediation board at Washington today in an effort to obtain agreement for reopening a group of "captive" soft coal mines in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky, owned by major steel companies.

The 43,000 striking C. I. O. United Mine Workers demand a union shop. A conference yesterday, attended by union representatives and steel company executives, failed to bring settlement of the dispute. However, John L. Lewis, U. M. W. president, submitted a proposal for quick resumption of work. Terms of the proposal were not disclosed by the mediation board, but it was to be considered today.

A dispute over increased union dues and assessments continued to hold up production in a number of Eastern Pennsylvania anthracite mines. Twenty thousand C. I. O. U. M. W. members remained away from work at 44 collieries, although 4,000 men went back to the pits in the Wilkes-Barre area after the mine operators had agreed to quit deducting union assessments for the present time.

A strike in progress since August 19 at the New Haven Clock Company, New Haven, Conn., was ended by signing of a contract which gives a 5-cent hourly pay raise, union security and seniority rights to 1,700 C. I. O. clockmakers. The old wage was not announced.

The International Association of Machinists (A. F. L.) asked the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation at San Diego, Calif., for immediate wage increases of 27,000 employees to meet wage advances announced by eight other Southern California aircraft factories.

A reply was requested by tonight. A blanket raise of 10 cents an hour, retroactive to July 1, was asked.

H. C. Brown, union representative, said the company had signed a contract with the A. F. L. organization June 12, guaranteeing wage boosts to Consolidated workers if standard rates of pay were adopted by the aircraft industry.

The boost would go to all workers not affected by a recent raise in minimum pay for beginners, from 60 to 75 cents an hour. It would add millions of dollars to Consolidated's annual payroll.

The company has a backlog of $750,000 in defense orders, mostly bombers for the United States and the British empire.

Brown indicated that the union's demands might not be ended, even if the raise is granted. He said the company and the union would hold a conference in October to review the pay schedules of all workers employed more than 12 weeks, and that more increases might be expected.

CAPITALIST'S WIFE SHOOTSELF, DIES

DENVER, Sept. 18.—(P)—Mrs. Anna Lou Boettcher, wife of the Denver capitalist, Charles Boettcher II, who was kidnapped in 1933, shot and killed herself Wednesday.

Deputy Coroner Gus Economy said Mrs. Boettcher, dependent over ill health, fired a .38 caliber revolver bullet through her right temple.

Her body was found in her bedroom at the Denver home from which her husband was kidnapped. He was held by his abductors on a South Dakota ranch until March 1.

Economy said the door was locked and that a family servant gained entrance to the room by climbing through a window.

(B) For testing, inspecting, proving, repairing, outfitting, reconditioning, or otherwise placing in good working order any defense articles for the government of a country whose defense the president deems vital to the defense of the United States, including services and expenses in connection therewith, $125,000,000.

(C) For necessary services and expenses for carrying out the purposes of the act of March 11, 1941, not specified or included in the foregoing, $285,000,000.

(D) For administrative expenses, $10,000,000.

(E) In all $3,985,000,000 to remain available until June 30, 1943.

(F) Each of the foregoing appropriations shall be additional to, and consolidated with, the appropriation for the same purpose contained in sections 1 (A), 1 (B), 1 (D), and 1 (E) respectively, of the "defense aid supplemental appropriation act, 1941".

Provided, that with the exception of the appropriation for administrative expenses, not to exceed 20 per centum of any such consolidated appropriations, may be transferred by the president to any other of such consolidated appropriations, but no such consolidated appropriation shall be increased more than 20 per centum thereby.

Sec. 2. The president may, from time to time, when he deems it in the interest of national defense, authorize the head of any department or agency of the government, to enter into contract for the procurement of defense articles, information or services for the government of any country whose defense the president deems vital to the defense of the United States, to the extent that such government agrees to pay the United States for such defense articles, information or services prior to the receipt thereof and to make such payments from time to time as the president may require to protect the interests of the United States, and, upon payment of the full cost, the president may dispose of such articles, information or services to such government.

Sec. 3. Any defense article procured pursuant to this act shall be retained by or transferred to and for the use of such department or agency of the United States as the president may determine, in lieu of being disposed of to a foreign government, whether in the possession of the president, the defense of the United States will be best served thereby.

Sec. 4. No part of any appropriation contained in this act shall be used to pay the salary or wages of any person who advocates, or who is a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence. Provided further, that any person who advocates, or who is a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence, shall be considered prima facie evidence that the person making the affidavit does not advocate, and is not a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the government of the United States by force or violence.

tected cargoes to the royal navy somewhere off Iceland for the final 800-mile voyage to port.

At the same time, however, Knox revealed that the navy believed an axis surface raider was operating near the Galapagos islands in the south Pacific and, while the fact had not been positively established, the hunt was on.

"We'll tell the world about it," Knox promised if any raider was caught.

The twin disclosures gave official notice that no half-way measures were being employed to enforce the policy which President Roosevelt enunciated in his speech a week ago, when he barred "defensive waters" to axis raiders and ordered the navy to protect all shipping in those areas.

"The sole responsibility rests with Germany," Mr. Roosevelt asserted then. "There will be no shooting unless Germany continues to seek it."

LOVETT SAYS PRODUCTION HAS 'A LONG WAY TO GO'

LAKE CHARLES, La., Sept. 18.—(P)—Robert A. Lovett, under-secretary for air in the war department, Wednesday said in an interview here that "American production still has a long way to go, but in six months from now the combined United States and British production of combat planes will surpass the combined Axis production of such ships."

He talked briefly before explaining for Baton Rouge and New Orleans. He was high in his praise of the quality and growing quantity of American planes. He said that one squadron of combat planes was now being delivered to the United States air force every other day.

ARMY TILTS AT HIGHEST PITCH

ing of anti-tank organizations had ended the "honeymoon period" of mechanized forces.

They have not had the field to themselves here as they did in previous war games in Tennessee and elsewhere. With attack and defense bombers operating in the current maneuvers the mechanized divisions are finding tougher going.

"The air-ground team finally comes into its own," said the tactician who preferred anonymity. He had been asked to explain why the two armored divisions with Lieutenant-General Ben Lear's Second Army had been unable to get away for usual wide flanking attacks or surprise stabs with the great shock power of 700 tanks, backed up by artillery and infantry.

"The actual effect of the initial cooperation of airplanes and strong ground forces has been to emphasize the natural barriers of terrain," the high staff officer declared. "Rivers suddenly become impassable obstacles because bridges can be bombed as fast as they can be constructed."

"Before the bombers came the armored divisions could come to the Red and Sabine rivers, move up sufficient artillery and infantry to establish a bridgehead, push over pontoons and roll across. Now, unless definite superiority is on their side they have to operate between the Sabine and Red rivers."

And the full power of the Second Army's mechanized divisions apparently was directed southward in just that area today. Lieutenant-General Walter Krueger, Third army commander, had his anti-tank forces massed on or near a 100-mile front pushing northward with the center in the Kisatchie national forest.

WITH SECOND ARMY, Sept. 18.—(P)—Hundreds of rumbling tanks and thousands of horses, working side by side, drove a devastating wedge through the center of the Third Army's front today with 100,000 infantry and artillery troops following in their wake.

This development came as the initial phase of the giant war maneuvers neared a close and indications were that a recess until Monday would be called today.

The surprise move in the center of Lieutenant-General Walter Krueger's Third Army virtually unprepared and reduced the effectiveness of 200 anti-tank guns massed on the Texas border.

Krueger made most of his efforts on the two flanks, setting up a strong defense along the Red river between Alexandria and Cofax, La., on the east, and along the Sabine river between the Gulf of Mexico and Zwolle, La., on the west. Apparently he was protecting himself against the usual armored tactics of encircling the enemy flanks.

He had drawn back the center of the line to form a pocket for Lieutenant-General Ben Lear's Second Army infantry and artillery in an attempt to draw Major-General C. S. Scott's armored corps in a pincer around the west, where anti-tank batteries were set up for the kill.

The eighth corps with three divisions on the front from Leesville to Hornbeck, La., and the Fourth corps between DeRidder and Oakdale, La., bore the brunt of the combined attack by all branches of the Second Army.

While bombers blasted at enemy concentrations in front of the wedge, tank units fought forward in unending columns. Because the thick, jungle-like pine and oak forests held the armored forces on horseback, thousands of troopers on horseback cleaned out hidden enemy forces.

Infantry supported by artillery advanced behind the wedge to bring the war games to the highest pitch since the start last Sunday night. It was the first time the entire 75-mile front was turned into an active battlefield.

The air was filled with scattered dogfights as pursuit planes sought to protect bombers, navy dive bombers harassed the lines and observation ships constantly circled the battlefield in the greatest air power maneuvers in the army's history.

WITNESS LAUDS WORK IN RADIO BY NEWSPAPERS

Says No One Else Could Have Contributed As Much To Advance

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The federal communications commission turned to Iowa witnesses today for new evidence in its investigation of newspaper-controlled radio stations.

Following up introduction of a mass of testimony concerning relations between Hearst newspapers and Hearst broadcasting outlets, the FCC called Luther Hill, general manager of the Iowa Broadcasting company which is controlled by the Register and Tribune Publishing company, owners of Des Moines two daily newspapers.

Also scheduled to appear was Joe Maland, vice-president and general manager of the Central Broadcasting company, licensee of station WHO in Des Moines.

Emile J. Gough, former general manager of Hearst Radio, Inc., the principal witness yesterday, said he felt the newspapers had contributed much to radio.

"Could anyone else have made the same contribution," asked Louis Caldwell, counsel for WGN, the Chicago Tribune's station.

"I might be biased, but I don't think so," Gough replied.

The tradition of newspapers for fairness and accuracy, Gough said, has been carried into radio with "continuing good influence." Newspaper-owned stations, he told the commission, were the first to develop the present form of broadcasting.

Gough said he did not think news reports on the radio caused anyone not to buy newspapers. Instead, he said, radio news reports whetted the appetite of listeners to read the papers.

Among the correspondence identified by Gough was a letter he sent to Harry M. Bittner, Hearst newspaper executive, telling of a meeting in New York in April, 1937, of representatives of newspaper-owned stations. Clarence C. Dill, former senator from Washington, described by Gough as the man who wrote the communications act, was present.

"Senator Dill gave a most interesting discourse on the problems confronting owners of newspapers and radio stations," Gough wrote. "He said that he spoke from experience as a member of congress of more than 20 years' standing; and knew that probably the closest thing to a congressman—next to his suit of clothes—was the next election; that his every act in congress is predicated on elections."

"He further said that many congressmen have found that newspapers opposed them and are fearful that with newspapers owning stations that they may, in turn, keep them from their constituents."

Dill, Gough said, "paid a great compliment to newspapers operating radio stations by saying that they had done more to advance the art than any other group of station owners."

SCHOOL OF FSA

District Sessions Are Well Attended During
Two Days

Seeking to stabilize the position of landowners and tenants through long term leases which permit development of new sources of income, Farm Security administration supervisors in this area attended a school on Wednesday and Thursday to learn how the long term leases work and how they benefit the landowners and tenants.

Charles Swartzburg, farm debt adjustment supervisor for Farm Security administration, announced that supervisors from Caldwell, Lincoln, Union, Ouachita, Richland and Morehouse parishes attended this school. Mr. Swartzburg said that plans for the seven-point tenure improvement program and new procedure on working out debt adjustment for all the farm families in the district were discussed.

The seven-point tenure improvement program provides for the use of the compensation principle for making improvements; use of soil conservation to improve fertility and prevent soil erosion; repairs and improvements of housing standards; woodland management; security of tenure; proper financing; and production of food and feed for home consumption.

To develop this program of tenure improvement, the FSA has completed plans for giving assistance to the tenants and landowners participating in the plan to stabilize farm conditions and tie people to the land.

As a means to aid all farmers in their drive to obtain a higher standard of living, the FSA has designed a broader policy based on the farmer's ability to pay after he has paid for a minimum standard of living.

MRS. ROSS RITES

The funeral of Mrs. Annie Ross, 49, of Calhoun, who died at her residence there Tuesday morning, was held at the Calhoun Methodist church Thursday at 10 a.m. The pastor, Rev. E. M. Mosser, officiated, being assisted by Rev. Spinks. Interment was in the Calhoun cemetery. The Dixie Funeral home directed the arrangements. Mrs. Ross is survived by three sons, A. R. Allen, R. W. Allen and A. M.

Ross, all of Calhoun; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Gray, Mrs. Myrtle Stewart, both of West Monroe, and Miss Lydia Ross of Calhoun.

PETTIT FUNERAL

The funeral of Frank S. Pettit, 92, was held in the chapel of the Dixie Funeral home Thursday at 4 p.m. Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated, and interment was in the old city cemetery. Pallbearers, all members of the Monroe police department, were Captain R. G. May, Captain J. D. Busby, and Officers C. W.

Dent, Horton, Barker and Bob Darter. Mr. Pettit was a native of Bastrop and had spent his entire life in Monroe and vicinity. He was widely known and highly regarded.

Surviving are three sons and two daughters, all residents of Monroe. They are Fred, Frank and Ira Pettit, and Mrs. W. D. Hudspeth and Mrs. Annie M. Gattis.

The Swedish government has banned citizens from enlisting in any foreign military service except the Finnish.

AIR POWER OF U. S. PRAISED

Two Officials Call It Great Enough To Meet Any Assault

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Two high ranking United States air officials expressed the belief in an interview today that this nation's air power is great enough to withstand any assault.

They were Robert A. Lovett, assistant secretary of war for air, and Major-General Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, who arrived here yesterday after an inspection trip of air facilities in the vital Louisiana-Texas maneuver area.

Both refused to be quoted directly on the United States' air power, but were emphatic in the belief that its equipment is as good as any in the world and that its personnel is superb. They limited their quotable observations to the air facilities in the area where the Second and Third armies are maneuvering against each other with every modern weapon.

General Arnold, who was taught to fly by aviation's pioneers, Orville and Wilbur Wright, said planes and pilots performed in a highly satisfactory manner in the maneuvers.

"Our boys are new, untried fliers," he asserted. "Some of them have been out of flying school only about three months. They're being turned loose on equipment as good as any in the world, and they're making good, even when, as we have observed in the past week, many of the airports they are using for bases are flooded by heavy rains."

Lovett, a naval aviator in the World War, said air activity in the maneuver area presented "a very fine picture."

"Our boys are doing a fine job under difficult and adverse conditions," he declared, and concurred with General Arnold that "they have material as good as any in the world and the men themselves are superb."

Lovett also praised the growing quantity of American planes and asserted one squadron of combat planes was being delivered to the country's air forces every other day.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Five shivering French boys, all just under 20, landed at Eastbourne this morning, soaking and exhausted from an all-night trip across the English channel in a 12-foot canoe to join the Free French forces.

They had battled an unfavorable tide after shoving off from the French coast.

JUDGE ANXIOUS ABOUT JURORS

Witnesses Say Jones Attempted To Use Undue Interference

SHREVEPORT, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Testimony by which the prosecution seeks to show that Judge James W. Jones, of Natchitoches, sought unduly to interfere with the selection of a grand jury in 1939, was begun at the outset hearing before Judge J. G. Palmer, special commissioner for the state supreme court here today.

Called to testify in support of the charge that Judge Jones dismissed one grand jury that had been selected, and ordered the drawing of a second more to his liking, were members of the jury commission as well as members of the first grand jury panel.

O. C. Butler, member of the jury commission, and president of the Natchitoches Chamber of Commerce, first to testify, said that he was named on the jury commission by Judge Jones on September 15, 1939.

Judge Jones, he said, called him by telephone and asked him to serve, stating that he wished outstanding men on the jury panels. Later, he said he conferred with the judge and the latter told him he wanted good men selected on the panels and suggested to him to submit a list of 50 names for prospective jurors. Butler stated that he submitted such a list and later was handed a revised list by Judge Jones containing names of persons he did not know.

When the jury commission met to select the jury, Butler said that Judge Jones submitted to the commission the names of four men he wished to serve on the grand jury. The commission, however, ignored the list and proceeded to draw a grand jury panel of 20 names. Some time later, he said, Judge Jones called him to his office. The judge was very agitated.

"He asked me where I got the names I put on the grand jury?" Butler said. "I told him that I had only suggested outstanding men. He told me 'I thought you knew I was to name the grand jury.' Then he said that the grand jury was not properly distributed over the parish and I showed him that every ward was represented. He then said that it was impossible to get a good grand jury from the 20 named as they were no account. He said that he had to name the grand jury in order to control the courts of the parish."

Butler said that a second meeting of the grand jury was called after the order had been issued cancelling the first jury. At the second meeting, he said, Judge Jones remarked: "Gentlemen of the jury commission, I've called you back in session to draw another grand jury. The jury you drew was no account."

He said that the judge warned that if the same jurors were drawn again that there would be no court session. A new panel was drawn. Butler said that he had not served as a jury commissioner since another man was named in his place.

Butler was grilled on cross-examination by Joe Cawthorn, defense counsel.

"Did you know that one member of the grand jury you selected was charged with a criminal offense at the time?" Cawthorn asked.

"I did not."

"Since you were disposed or liquidated on the jury commission you have been very active against Judge Jones, haven't you?"

"I have not."

J. C. Carnahan, a member of the first grand jury panel, testified that he was qualified to serve on the panel. He admitted, however, on cross-examination, that he had asked Judge Jones to excuse him because of the illness of his father.

A. J. Buckley, another jury commissioner, said he was named on the commission by Judge Jones. He also told of ignoring the list of four names submitted by Judge Jones. He stated that a list of about 35 names he submitted to Judge Jones was revised by the judge.

On cross-examination he was asked by Cawthorn if "Judge Jones ever tried to use force, coercion or duress to influence your selection of the jury?"

"He did not. The only thing he did was to hand me a list of four names and said that they were good men."

LIME, LEMON DROPS IN DEFENSE PICTURE

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Lime and lemon drops rolled into the national defense picture today.

The Chicago quartermaster depot, which buys most of the food for the army, announced its substance research laboratory had decided to substitute hard candy for the fortified chocolate fudge, now included in the canned emergency ration issued to soldiers in the field.

Instead of fudge, the soldiers will get five individually wrapped pieces of candy, consisting of assorted lime, lemon, orange and butterscotch drops and caramels.

The depot invited candy makers to bid for an order of 60,000 pounds—or 48,876,000 pieces of candy.

SEVERAL CHILEANS HELD IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Several Chileans—the exact number undisclosed—have been arrested in Germany on suspicion of engaging in activities hostile to the Reich, authoritative sources announced today.

Disclosure of the arrests was made in connection with a query concerning 27 Germans taken into custody in Chile.

Nevertheless Fuehrer Hitler cabled the president of Chile congratulations on the occasion of Chilean independence day, which is today.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF CRASH EXPIRES

GREENVILLE, Miss., Sept. 18.—(AP)—E. R. Hust, 33, of Meridian, Miss., died in a local hospital last night from injuries suffered last Saturday in an automobile crash that claimed the lives of two others.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Denman, of Franklin, La., were killed when their automobile collided with Hust's car on a bridge two miles east of Land, Miss.

The body of Mr. Hust was taken to Meridian today for funeral services.

CLUB PUTS ON 5-RUN RALLY IN 9TH FRAME

Win Keeps Cards, Who Triumph Twice, From Top Spot In National

By Judson Bailey
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The favorite flagging of baseball players is "It's rather lucky than good" and this little crumb of wisdom explains why the Brooklyn Dodgers still are in first place in the National League and seem destined to win the pennant.

They are fate's fair-haired boys even though their lead has shrunk like a dollar shirt in the last couple of days.

Their daily adventures read like chapters out of a story book and yesterday they outdid that fictional piker, Merriwell, again.

Brooklyn was on the verge of dropping its second straight game, trailing 3-1 going into the ninth inning at Pittsburgh. A loss coupled with a double victory by St. Louis over the Boston Braves would have transferred first place to the Cardinals by a tiny percentage margin.

But what happened? You guessed it. The Dodgers scored five runs in the ninth inning and beat the Pirates 6-4 to retain a one-game margin over the Braves, who whipped the Braves 6-1 and 3-2.

Brooklyn's ferocious flurry was started by little Augie Galan, whose batting average at the time was exactly .200 and who was waived to the minors last month by the Chicago Cubs only to have the Dodgers toss him a life preserver.

He had delivered a pinch double in the ninth inning at Cincinnati Tuesday to send that game into overtime and he led off with another pinch double yesterday. Then the whole team batted around. Reese singled, Herman singled, Reiser tripled and eventually Lew Riggs provided the crowning glory—the two runs that proved to be the deciding margin.

With two out and the bases loaded he slapped a sharp grounder at Second baseman Stu Martin, who was all set to grab it when the ball suddenly bounced over his head for a single.

The Pirates recovered a run in their half of the ninth, but that rally was the ball game. He showed once more that the Dodgers never are licked till the final out is made and the ball club that wins pennants.

The Cardinals had an equally tough time taking their two victories from the Braves and must have been disheartened at seeing the Dodgers dance back out of the furnace at Pittsburgh.

In the first game, Howard Feltz and Tom Earley were the bases loaded and St. Louis grabbed five runs and victory. In the second game Max Lanier and Jim Tobin gave another magnificent mound show—Lanier allowing five hits and Tobin six and the teams came out to the last of the ninth in a 2-2 deadlock. And Crabtree hammered out another home run!

The Cincinnati Reds bagged a doubleheader from the Phils 1-0 and 3-2. John Vander Meer pitched a three-hitter and fanned 11 in the first game and Gene Thompson pitched a six-hitter and made two doubles and a single himself in the tieup. The Chicago Cubs climbed on the New York Giants 7-3.

In the American League the New York Yankees clipped the Chicago

SOUTHERN

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 18.—(AP)—With Manager Paul Richards and Lester Burge doing the most wall-painting, the Atlanta Crackers out loose with a 12-hit attack on four Nashville pitchers for a 12-to-8 victory Wednesday night and thereby gained a 3-2 edge in the Shaugnessy playoff finals.

They drove George Jeffcoat to cover in the first inning, did the same to Johnny Sain in the second, touched Leo Twardy at intervals until the eighth and then finished with a four-run game-clinching blast off Charlie Gassaway in the ninth.

As it turned out, they needed their final frame rally to win, as the Volks, who were less subdued by Veteran Ed Heusser's pitching until then, put on a four-run rally of their own climaxed by Les Fleming's second home run of the game and his sixth of the series.

WHIT WYATT WINS A VITAL DUEL

Brooklyn Dodgers To 1-0 Victory In Third And Deciding Game Of A Three-Game Series With The St. Louis Cardinals

The victory gave the Dodgers a lead of two games in the race for the National league pennant.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—One of the biggest disappointments Leo Durocher had last night was when Montreal got into the International league's playoff.

Leo wanted to bring up Claude Corbitt from the farm to play shortstop the last couple of weeks. . . And to make it worse, Tony Cucinello has been around watching the bums as an antidote for his experiences as Jersey City manager and has spent most of his spare time singing praises of Claude.

After the past three days it seems that the Dodgers could make things a lot easier for themselves and the fans by playing the ninth inning first.

One of the guys who stopped by to congratulate Johnny, a fan on his well pitching Tuesday was Paul Deringer, who was in line for a few congratulations himself. . . The report from the home front is that the Dodgers had to rent extra quarters to handle world series applications. We thought they'd tucked them right into the price of tickets.

FLORIDA STARS LEAD TOURNEY

First-Round Honors
in Southeastern Links
Competition

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, Fla., Sept. 18.—Three Florida golfers fired over par 74s Wednesday on the d-sweet, rain-soaked Ponte Vedra to share first round honors in 20th annual Southeastern P. G. A. tournament.

Little Dick Doerschler, 19-year-old Jacksonville amateur, took the play from the professionals with a 37s. He tied Al Nelson of Ponte Vedra and Ed Brook of Winter Haven for first place at the finish of the 18 holes of the 72-hole competi-

Only nine of the 42 players who entered in 80s succeeded in shooting under 80 on the tough Seaside course.

Clayton Attridge of Pensacola, Fla., closed on the heels of the pacesetters with 37-38-75, one stroke ahead of Joe Burch of Mobile, Ala., who tied a pair of 88s and Jack Fendren of Memphis, Tenn., who faltered on back nine after shooting the first holes in even par.

Gene Cook of Anniston, Ala., who is holder of the competitive course record at 71, and Louis Broward, Jacksonville amateur, turned in scores of 38-77.

The principal first round casualty was Clyde Usina of West Palm Beach, who tied Cochran last year at 83 but lost in the playoff. Usina took an eight on the par third hole and wound up with 80 in a tie with Charlie Miller of Miami.

Fred Haas of New Orleans, the defending titleholder in the senior division of this tournament, and John A. of Jacksonville captured theateur-pro championship of the theastern P. G. A. They won the ch which was carried over from Friday with a par four on the first of the defending Nelson and Bill Stark, Jacksonville amateur.

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, Fla., Sept. 18.—George Norrie of Savannah, Ga., today was selected president of the Southeastern section of the professional golfers association.

vice-presidents include: Mississippi, John Cochran, Greenwood; Louisiana, Ed Haas, Sr., New Orleans.

Gridiron Briefs

U. OF MISSISSIPPI
X ORD, Miss., Sept. 18.—(P)—Coach Harry Mehre again expressed satisfaction Wednesday with the work of his University of Mississippi players, and said he was afraid too little time was left to get them in for the opening game with Georgetown, September 26.

Splendid running by Merle Hayes, fullback, despite his recent stay in hospital, gave Mehre one ray of hope, but the mentor ordered considerable extra work for the reserves line and downfield blocking.

FLORIDA
GAINESVILLE, Fla., Sept. 18.—(P)—The rains stopped Wednesday afternoon and the University of Florida football squad got in its best practice of the week in preparation for Saturday.

Techmen Getting Set For Grid Opener With L. S. U.

day night's opening game with Randolph Macon.

Florida's first team appeared to be Ferguson and Klutka at ends, Hull and Lane at tackles, Konecky and Raborn at guards, Robinson at center, Tate at quarterback, Fendren Mitchell and Buell at halfbacks and Mack at fullback.

L. S. U.
BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 18.—(P)—Louisiana State's passing star, Leo Bird, was back in football togs Wednesday after being given a reprieve from army khaki by his draft board.

However Coach Bernie Moore said Bird hardly would get in shape quick enough for use in Saturday night's opening game here against Louisiana Tech and it was doubtful whether he would see action.

The Tigers were given their hardest defensive work of the season scrimmaging frosh running Tech plays.

GEORGIA
ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 18.—(P)—The problem of reserve power for the Georgia Bulldogs became serious Wednesday when Coach Wallace Butts checked up and found that a promising squad of 50 players had shrunk to less than 40.

Injuries, scholastic troubles, withdrawals and the draft have taken so many boys the coach had counted on that only one man was available for each of several positions.

TULANE
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18.—(P)—Bill Mannis, because of his defensive work as a member of the Red Shirts, was moved up Wednesday as quarterback of Tulane's No. 2 team, behind Walter McDonald and Bob Grush, who alternate on the No. 1 squad.

Bob Glass, halfback, and Bill Hornick, end, joined the other injured with bruised hands, which seems to be the major malady affecting the Greens this season.

TENNESSEE
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 18.—(P)—The Tennessee Volunteers, given a defensive scrimmage Wednesday against Furman plays, encountered some difficulty with the Carolinians' "spread" formation.

The spread formation is similar to that used by Boston College in the Sugar Bowl against the Vols last New Year's Day.

Two sophomores may start against Furman here Saturday in the season's opener, Pat Connelly, 189-pound guard from Midland, Pa., and Max Partin at wingback may get the nod in place of injured Dave Romine and Jim Schwartzinger, respectively.

DETROIT WINS
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—(P)—Phil Marchildon's generosity with bases on balls and a two-run error by Sam Chapman gave Detroit a 3 to 2 victory over the Athletics Wednesday.

Marchildon and Porter Vaughn allowed Detroit only four hits, but three straight walks and an infield out gave the Tigers a run in the first and to more bases on balls, a single by Bruce Campbell and Chapman's error accounted for two runs in the fifth.

YANKS BEAT CHIXO
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(P)—The New York Yankees broke up what might have been a sparkling pitching duel between Spud Chandler and Ed Smith Wednesday by blasting four runs in the fifth inning to beat the Chicago White Sox 5 to 3.

The Bombers made six hits in their big uprising, one of them Tommy Henrich's 21st home run with two on for the runs that won the game. The Yanks made only two other blows in the entire contest, but one of them was a triple by Johnny Sturm for a run in the first.

Chandler held the Sox to five hits for his ninth victory, but gave up two tallies in the first on a single by Joe Kuhel, a walk and a double by Taft Wright. Then Kuhel homered in the third.

Coach Aillet stated that the Tech squad would leave Ruston by this Friday afternoon and would workout under the lights at L. S. U. Friday night. The Techmen will go by way of Natchez, Miss., to avoid highway congestion caused by army maneuvers between Ruston and Baton Rouge, the coach said.

LAYDEN SLAPS $25 FINE ON TWO PRO GRIDSTERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—(P)—Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National Football League, assessed fines of $25 each today against Charles Schultz, Green Bay tackle, and Augie Loiguard with the Detroit Lions, for their fight during last Sunday's Packers-Lions game at Green Bay, Wis. The players, who were put out of the game in the fourth quarter, must pay their fines to regain eligibility, Layden said.

ALABAMA
TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Sept. 18.—(P)—The Alabama football squad's last of crumpled rose to eight Wednesday and Coach Frank Thomas ordered only easy workouts until the week-end.

Thomas announced he was shifting Bill Baughman, 185-pound sophomore center from Jeannette, Pa., to guard after five candidates for that post went out with minor injuries.

Jonesboro-Hodge and Columbia Elvens To Tangle Friday

JONESBORO, La., Sept. 18.—(Special)—The Jonesboro-Hodge High Tigers have been hitting a fast pace all the week in preparation for their game here Friday night with the Columbia Crimson Tide. Their defeat at the hands of the Fair Park Indians failed to dishearten them, but on the contrary, strengthened their resolve to show all future opponents one of the toughest Class A teams in North Louisiana.

Coach C. E. Maroney, though not satisfied with the team's play last week, was pleased with their defensive fighting in spots. However, this week he plans to start a different lineup against Columbia, giving several of the newer boys who have been hitting hard in scrimmage a chance to show what they can do in real competition.

A couple of guards likely to start the game are Carl Coleman and J. W. McCarty. These boys have been working hard since the opening practice session and have developed into hard hitters in the line. Aside from these the line will be about the same that started in the opener: A. C. Shackelford, center, Lescar Harlan and James Toler, tackles, and Fred Howell and O. C. Lockhart, ends.

Coach Maroney has been experimenting with the backfield, and finds that hard-charging Theo Shively, who has been playing the spinner back position on offense, is one of the finest blocking backs he has ever had. The shifting of Shively up close to the line put Max Stewart in the spin-back slot, and he looks good there. Columbia will see these boys alternating at the two positions. The starting wingbacks will be Ronald Dennis and Hannon Shivers, two small but speedy ball carriers, instead of Richard Tewell and Dalton Abercrombie. Tewell was injured in the game last Friday, but has completely recovered, and will be put in the lineup should the Crimson Tide prove especially tough.

Another large crowd is expected for the game.

HIGHWAY SAFETY IS CONSIDERED

Lieutenant - Governor Hughes Gives Address To Civitan Club

Lieutenant-Governor H. C. Hughes, of Civitan clubs in Louisiana, discussed "Safety on the Highway," at the meeting of the Monroe club, at Hotel Frisco, Wednesday night. In his address he cited an article by Dr. Arthur Hays Sulzberger, of New York, on this subject.

It was pointed out that the development of the automobile industry, construction of new highways, and other developments in this connection have been so rapid that safety for the time being has not made strides equal to the extent of the progress made along these other lines.

In all safety, the personal element, it was shown, is the principal one. Traffic regulations have been passed, mechanical safety devices, the work of some of the best engineers in the country are used but still the personal element is all important and may counteract all efforts by other means for safety.

It was said that inside of the next 10 years, the entire setup may be changed as regards traffic regulations. Drivers were classified as of either the offensive or defensive type. The first type was shown to be one who gets into difficulties and often causes injuries to others but rarely to himself.

In the matter of vision fitness for safety, the speaker said that 38 states compel vision tests of drivers. That many people are unable to see out of more than one eye and quite likely are not aware of the fact, the speaker stated. A one-eye driver is unable at all times to safeguard himself when driving on the highway, it was shown.

The last feature that was discussed in the matter of highway safety was that of the person's reaction when in a difficulty. An understanding reaction was shown to be such as to avert a possible tragedy on the highway while the lack of such reaction often leads to bad accidents, the speaker said.

BICYCLE UNCLAIMED
A red and white Goodyear bicycle, found by police and as yet unclaimed, is being held at police headquarters, officers said Thursday in urging the owner to come to headquarters and claim the machine.

POP, CAN MELVYN DO THIS TO ME?

Melvyn Douglas has an armful of Ruth Hussey, while Charles Coburn looks on approvingly, in "Our Wife," now playing at the Paramount and featuring Ellen Drew, John Hubbard and Harvey Stephens, a comedy of a hubby burning up when wife starts turning up.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer)
Secretary of the Navy Knox's announcement that American warships are to be used in convoying our merchantmen should cause little surprise, inasmuch as there is no other way in which the safety of cargo boats can be ensured.

That is the corollary to President Roosevelt's order that shipping be protected in our defensive waters. If that order is to be enforced there is no alternative to the employment of strong naval escorts, well bolstered with the fast, tough destroyers which make a special business of dealing with submarines. Either you convoy your ships or many of them will be sunk.

The situation is emphasized by the statement today from Dienst Aus Deutschland, authoritative German commentary, that U-boats have sunk 30,000 tons of shipping daily for the last 10 days in the north Atlantic. There is no confirmation of this claim, but we do know that there has been a steady loss of British ships. Less than four months ago, on May 27, President Roosevelt summed the position up thus grimly:

"The blunt truth of this seems to be this—and I reveal this with the full knowledge of the British government: The present rate of Nazi sinkings of merchant ships is more than three times as high as the capacity of British shipyards to replace them; it is more than twice the combined British and American output of merchant ships today."

If two and two make four, then a continuation of such a loss must mean that American aid would be rotting at the bottom of the sea, and that the allies would meet defeat. Lack of sufficient British warships to protect shipping has been a major cause of these heavy losses. A somewhat similar situation in the World war almost brought disaster to the allies, and it was the inauguration of strong American naval convoys which had much to do with saving the day.

Will there be shooting between our convoys and Nazi raiders? Of course there will, for it must be expected that U-boats will invade our north Atlantic route to Iceland. However, it remains to be seen whether Herr Hitler will force the issue far enough to bring on war, or whether he will try to avoid it by devoting most of his efforts to British territorial waters. Many observers hold that the latter course would be the logical one, but it must be admitted that logic not infrequently bumps up in one's face in wartime.

There has been a distinct slowing down of the U-boat campaign for some weeks now, but we can be sure that this is only a temporary respite. Hitler hasn't been employing anything like the total fleet; he is generally believed to possess.

There are two excellent reasons for this. One is that he needs U-boats for operations against the Russian navy in the Baltic, and the other is that he is getting set for possible operations against the Bolsheviks in the Black sea and has been shipping light submarines across country to Rumanian and Bulgarian ports.

However, the time will come when the fueler will be ready to unleash his pack again in the Atlantic—and it is likely to be a formidable one. As long ago as last February he was reported to have 600 submarines ready for action. Germany has lost some since then, but must have far more than replaced her losses, since she has been turning out these craft by mass production. The number of Italian submarines available is a matter of guess work, but it isn't large. The Vichy government also has 60 underwater boats—if Herr Hitler can get them. He is doing his best.

By the way:
A notable development of the day is the Russian move in ordering all male civilians between the ages of 16 and 50 to undergo military training, beginning the first of next month. One can only interpret that as indicating that the Reds have no present intention of bowing to adversity but are getting set to carry the war on through the winter. The Soviet's male population is estimated at more than double that of the Reich.

DOGS BRING OWNERS COUPLE OF CHICKENS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18.—(P)—Joe Alvin's job is to publicize National Broadcasting company's stars. But he found today's best story in his own backyard.

Joe and Mrs. Alvin have been talking of buying chickens for their ranch at nearby Van Nuys.

Yesterday Mrs. Alvin heard a startled cackling in her yard. Investigating, she found their three dogs—Splinter, a terrier; Sassy, a 4 1/2-month-old collie, and Dicky, a Doberman pinscher—playing with a Rhode Island Red hen.

She placed the hen in a pen until she could locate the owner. Splinter, Sassy and Dicky looked very, very disappointed at losing their playmate. Then they disappeared.

Soon, Mrs. Alvin heard another startled cackle. In the yard, Splinter, Sassy and Dicky were playing with another hen. Mrs. Alvin put it in the pen with the other chicken.

The Alvin theory is that Sassy led her pals to someone's chickens and that Dicky carried them home in his mouth. Neither hen was injured, but each had lost a few feathers on its surprise ride.

ATTORNEY IS CLUB SPEAKER

James Sparks Talks To Kiwanis On U. S. Constitution

The principal speaker at the luncheon of the Kiwanis club at Hotel Virginia Wednesday noon was Attorney James Sparks, who discussed certain features of the constitution of the United States. This program was in accord with "National Constitution week" that is being observed by clubs throughout the nation.

The club voted to accept the challenge of the Lions club for a softball game to be played between the two clubs as a USO benefit.

The annual Kiwanis minstrel show has been set for a later date, it being now scheduled for October 30. One new member was admitted to the club, J. D. Hines being received into the organization.

Visitors were Fred Hettler of Shreveport; Reggie Hatchell and Rev. C. K. Smith of the West Monroe Kiwanis club; C. F. Miller of Oklahoma City; George D. Holland, W. M. Bresler and W. E. Ellis, all of Monroe.

The club members voted to hold a community luncheon at Logtown next Wednesday noon.

LOCAL MAN INJURED IN CAR-TRUCK CRASH

A. J. Tippit, owner of a Monroe amusement parlor, was injured early yesterday afternoon when the automobile which he was driving collided with an army pickup truck at Texas avenue and South Second street, Monroe police reported.

The attending physician at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendall clinic where Mr. Tippit was taken, said he sustained several broken ribs and was suffering from shock. The driver of the truck, James C. Marshall, headquarters battery, 103rd coast artillery (anti-aircraft), Fort Sheridan, Ill., and Technical Sergeant Stanley Hardin, a passenger, were uninjured.

The accident occurred, police said,

PLAYS HORSES FROM POLISH PRISON CAMP

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(P)—If a man wants to play the horses, it seems there's hardly anything that can stop him—even though he is in a Polish prison camp and his betting agent is in London, with the International Red Cross their sole means of communication.

That was the situation of Private Gordon Roll, captured by the Germans at Dunkerque, who has been sending requests to Betting Agent Warwick Thompson for information on the horses.

Thompson was not inclined to the communications seriously. Roll ordered a bet equal to 5 on the Cambridgeshire race. Thompson takes Roll seriously arranged today to send weekly information to the prisoner.

Then the garbage man hauled it off and destroyed it.

U. S. ARMY FLIER LANDS BLAZING PLANE SAFELY
ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 18.—(P)—Pilots of the Blue 55th Pursuit Squadron at Esler field here were cocky Wednesday over bagging 11 enemy planes on maneuvers, but their hero was Lieutenant James Robinson.
His fighter's engine exploded at 3,500 feet but rather than jump to safety by parachute the Narvagansett, R. I., youth artfully maneuvered the blazing craft to a safe landing.
Ground crews quickly extinguished the flames, which caused only slight damage to the plane. Lieutenant Robinson was unhurt.

METHODISTS ARE RAISING FUND

New Have $19,000 Cash Toward $75,000 Building Fund

Members of the First Methodist church are busily engaged in their campaign to raise a total of $75,000 cash for the erection of a large educational building at the rear of the church edifice.

To date more than $19,000 in cash is in the bank for this purpose, through contribution of 1,061 members.

October 6, 1941, will be the climax of the fall campaign, and at that time it is sought to increase the amount to $25,000, which will mark a third of the way toward the total goal of $75,000.

The church has named a ways and means committee to have charge of the campaign. Members of this group are: C. Gibson, chairman; F. V. Barnett, Dr. A. M. Freeman, C. H. McHenry, Henry Bernstein, J. G. Hicks, E. N. Thompson, Roy O. Hale, W. B. Inabnet, and J. Harvey Trousdale.

GROUP PICKS MONROE AS CONVENTION SITE

The Louisiana Library association will hold its 1942 convention here, according to information received Friday by the Twin City Chamber of Commerce. In a letter to the local chamber, President Florinell Francis of the association said the executive board of the organization had picked Monroe as the site of next year's convention in its last regular meeting on September 12.

Although no dates for the convention have been set, the convention this year was held the first week in May, and it is expected next year's meeting will be held at about the same time. Judging from past conventions of the association, approximately 200 persons are expected to be present.

MONTGOMERY WARD STORE MAKING RAPID STRIDES

Here is a front view of the Monroe Montgomery Ward store, 124 North Third street, which has rapidly become one of the city's most popular shopping centers since the opening of the remodeled building last April.

Montgomery Ward Serves Monroe Trade Territory

Mr. Barham has directed the progress of the expanded Montgomery Ward store since its opening last April.

ENOUGH EGGS

Most of the eggs of the codfish perish before hatching, else the seas would be packed with codfish. This fish lays 5,000,000 eggs at a time.

Newly-Remodeled Building Dedicated To Service To Patrons

Montgomery Ward has long been a symbol of savings and quality to America's millions, and for over 15 years this great national institution has served the trade area of Monroe. However, during the past five months, since the opening in the company's newly remodeled building at 124 North Third street, the firm has had an unprecedented increase in business volume, according to Manager H. J. Barham.

Mr. Barham expressed himself as highly gratified with the upsurge of patronage since the opening of the addition to the store in its new location, and with the coming of the fall season expects business to reach a still higher peak.

In anticipation of this increase in business volume the Ward store has been stocked heavily with all lines of merchandise. Bought while prices were still low, Mr. Barham stated that his firm would be enabled to pass on substantial savings to its shoppers in the months to come.

In the Ward store, as its thousands of customers well know, can be found everything from the most simple items of farm hardware to Milady's latest fashion in apparel.

The first floor is devoted to clothing for the family, women's hosiery and lingerie, men's furnishings and work clothes, underwear and shoes.

The mezzanine is given over to a smart fashion shop which features fashions directly from New York, where Ward's experienced buyers are continually on the job, selecting the season's newest creations from outstanding stylists.

On the second floor will be found a complete home furnishings store. Here is displayed furnishings for every room in the house. Bedding, floor coverings, radios, refrigerators, washers and other items are included. The top floor is devoted to a storage or surplus stock room. Here large reserves of merchandise are maintained.

There is 138 times as much territory in the ocean 12,000 feet below sea level as there is on land 12,000 feet above sea level.

CRIPPLED TOTS GET ROTARY AID

Nation-Wide Society Is Launched By Noted Civic Club

An interesting and instructive explanation of work among crippled children was given Rotary club members at their luncheon at Hotel Virginia, Thursday noon, by A. N. Robinson, chairman of the local unit of the Louisiana Crippled Children's association. The Robinson was introduced to the club members by Dr. P. M. Gayle.

Mr. Robinson stated that the crippled children's society in the nation originated in Rotary. Years ago a child of Edgar Allen, in Elyria, O., was instantly killed when at play when an accident occurred. Other children in the same accident were left crippled for life.

This occurrence caused Mr. Allen to see the lack of aid given crippled children and he secured the assistance of the Rotary club of his home city to launch a project which grew so fast that the group was later separated from Rotary and formed a nationwide crippled children's society.

The last conference held, Mr. Robinson said, was in London, in 1939, when delegates from 35 nations assembled to plan ways and means for aiding crippled juveniles.

In February, 1938, the Monroe group was formed and affiliated with the Louisiana Crippled Children's association. Many important remedial operations have been performed here by a trained surgeon, Dr. Scott Hamilton. Because of the fact that this physician is now enrolled in the medical detachment of the army, the operations here have been halted for the time being, it was explained. A considerable amount of equipment for surgical purposes has been stored in safety vaults in Monroe banks.

Mr. Robinson referred to the acquisition of an "iron lung" through popular subscription which will be used when required in cases of infantile paralysis. The work among crippled children includes not only surgery but also it is sought to equip these unfortunates so they will be able to earn a livelihood.

The club voted to donate $25 to aid in liquidating the indebtedness caused through holding of the boat races on the river recently.

Announcement was made that the next club meeting will be a barbecue held in Bernstein park, Thursday at 6:30 p.m. Rotarian Pete Mulhearn was given a floral decoration as it was his birthday.

Visitors of the club were F. W. Dreyer, Fred Miller, Robert C. Smith and Sergeant Art Simon.

WATCH THOSE BRIGHT REMARKS

JACKSONVILLE, N. C.—(AP)—Two marines walking along a Jacksonville street fell in step with a stranger.

"That's a pretty house," one marine commented upon approaching a dwelling. "Bet there's pretty women there."

"There is," replied the stranger, "my wife."

His invitation to dinner was declined by the red-faced leathernecks.
